

O'Leary has made it to top 10 in the 2017 Kraft Hockeyville Contest.

$100,000 on the line

If successful, O'Leary would win $100,000 toward local arena upgrades, plus the community would host an NHL pre-season game, have a broadcast from the town on Sportsnet and hold the title of Kraft Hockeyville.

The O'Leary Community Sports Centre is looking for funding to help make the arena more accessible and comfortable for spectators and players, according to a press release.

Next round of voting begins March 19-20th after the top 2 facilities will be announced Saturday March 18th that evening.

The winner will be announced April 1 on Hockey Night in Canada.

The second-place finisher receives $100,000 for arena upgrades, while the remaining eight communities receive $25,000 each.
